MINING NEAR WICKENBURG.—H. M. Bavenport and W. C. Wickenburg, came to the city yesterday morning. There is a great mining outlook at Wickenburg. Work is going on at all the camps in that region and several important sales are impending.

YOUNG MEN'S MEETING.—The meeting tonight at the M. E. church, corner of Second, avenue and Monroe street, will be specially in the interest of young men and the young men of the city are specially invited to attend. Rev. J. M. Weems will preach the sermon. Services will begin at 7:30 p. m.

DEATH OF M. P. FORBES.—M. P. Forbes, who came here from Iowa not long ago, died at the Sisters' hospital on Sunday. The remains were embalmed by W. A. Davis and held to await instruction from a brother, C. M. Forbes, who lives at McFarley, Ia. A telegram was received from him yesterday saying he would start at once for Phoenix.

POLICE COURT DAY.—The police court docket yesterday was made up of two hobos, one drunk and two bicyclist arrested for disregarding the sidewalk ordinance. They were strangers in the city and did not know there was such an ordinance until they were enlightened by Officer McGill.

A CIVIL SERVICE APPOINTMENT.—C. W. Warrman has been appointed a clerk in the postoffice in charge of the money order window. Mr. Warrman took the civil service examination for a postoffice appointment about six months ago, taking first rank among some eighteen or twenty applicants examined, being placed on the eligible list. Mr. Warrman is a young man of splendid character and no better recommendation could have been made. For four years past he has been in the employ of the street railroad company and has made many friends by his courteousness and manly bearing.

THE CRIME OF BEING.—Geo. Kennedy, who was arrested on Saturday night for explaining in the block, why the Philippines ought not to be retained and discussing other matters of current interest in unlawful language, was brought before Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon. Four women were there also to testify to Kennedy's explanation of his views.

NGALES REAL ESTATE.—Mr. T. F. Grindell left last night for Nogales to look after property interests there which promise to become extensive. While he was superintendent of the schools of the line city he acquired a tract within the line embracing about 200 lots. He had the tract platted as Grindell's addition, and the streets and alleys designated. But there was a cloud over the townsite and men bought and sold real estate there when they could not help themselves. A number of any sort was hardly more than a lease and the town which Nogales felt ought to come was kept out. Last week the town received a patent for which it had long been struggling and it is enabled now to say its soil is its own. Real estate has taken on a new value and when a man buys it he knows he is coming into possession of something which will belong to him, his heirs and assigns forever.

A TELETYPE PENNY.—Samuel Crutcher is an ingrate as well as a thief. He has been three or four weeks in the jail for stealing a trolley car. Mrs. John Corbett, a widow, while she was at church on Sunday night Crutcher broke into a trunk and stole a $20 gold piece. He also took a golden copper cent, but for which Mrs. Corbett would have suspended.

posed that somebody else was the burglar. Having committed the crime, Crutcher indignantly refused to the block where he tried to pass the gold coin for $5. The imitation was detected and Crutcher was pointed out to Constable Joe Balaz, who arrested him, but soon afterward turned him loose, since the officer he tried to commit is not accurately depicted as a crime. When Mrs. Corbett reported her loss yesterday morning and mentioned the telltale penny, the officer knew that he had the thief in his clutches the night before. A warrant for Crutcher's arrest was issued from Justice Gray's court.

MOCCLES VS. BUGGY.—A collision occurred yesterday opposite Ben L. Bear's drug store. Cyrus Meekimmons, a student in the high school, was riding a bicycle at an easy pace, when he encountered a buggy coming in an opposite direction from the east. The buggy was driven by Jesse Holmes, who allowed the horse to turn into the bicycle, the rider of which had just previously looked ahead and seen a clear track. He was forced to lodge his head and shoulders against the front wheel so tightly that it was with great difficulty he managed to free himself. As he struck the dashboard a large gash was cut in his upper lip and a smaller one in his lower. The horse kicked him several times, barely missing his head, and when he got to the ground one finger was smashed by the horse's hoof. The horse became frightened and ran off, while the boy jumped from the conveyance and brushed his leg badly on a curbstone. Although the affair did not result seriously, Mr. Meekimmons had a very narrow escape.

ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP.—An attempt was made to hold up W. McDonald of the firm of Johnson & McDonald, Saturday evening. Mr. McDonald had been in Tempe loading some horses for shipment and in the middle of the evening he started for Phoenix with a bag of money in his possession. He was driving in a car and had followed the Tempe road to the Crescent canal. Here he was suddenly surprised by two highwaymen. The wheels of the car rubbed against one of the men lying on the ground of their premises. His horse was jumping along slowly at the time and one of the men grabbed the shaft of the rig. The other flashed a revolver and demanded money. Mr. McDonald replied by throwing up his hands, while the horse gave a long, low snort, shaking off the man at the shaft. At the first jerk made by the horse the robber with the weapon discharged his piece and the ball clipped a small piece from the crown of Mr. McDonald's hat. Before he had proceeded far two more shots were fired, but none took effect. The intended victim explained that his horse hit about three high places on the way to town and it was all over. No trace of the highwaymen has been discovered.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY.

Vincent Nellany of New York: I came to Phoenix five weeks ago broken down from overwork and at first treated over my enforced idleness, thinking that if I had the use in Phoenix this winter and possibly put in next winter here, too, I might as well die at once and have it over with. That feeling has passed away and I am liking Phoenix more and more. The possibilities of the town and of the territory are just opening up to me and I can see many opportunities for young men to make money. Among other openings I believe the field is good for the establishment of a fine dairy, one something on the order of Vanderbilt's famous Jersey dairy at Altamont, North Carolina. If I find it necessary to give in Phoenix next winter I shall certainly buy a place and establish a dairy.

O. H. Christy: These warm days of the past week have started the grass with light fields are looking green and fresh, especially those where there is barley and alfalfa mixed the grazing is good and a number of farmers are this early turning their stock out to feed on it. This is a good thing for the farmers, too, as it enables them to sell their alfalfa in the stock that was held for feeding, and alfalfa is bringing the farmer about $7 a ton in the stock these days.

C. R. Hakes of Mesa: The farmers of the mesa are planting a much larger area of wheat and barley this year than ever before. The price of barley and wheat, both as hay and as grain, the past year was an incentive to increased acreage. About the same average of alfalfa last year will be maintained, but the higher prices for grain hay has induced a larger production. There has not been much tree planting with us this season and there will be but little. It requires considerable capital to maintain an orchard and it becomes a revenue producer and as most of the farmers of the valley are poor they prefer, for the present, to produce the crops that will bring a ready income, especially when prices for hay and grain are as good as they are now and have been for the past year. Another thing orchards need more water for the summer. Grain or alfalfa and until we have water storage so as to insure water when needed in dry seasons many feel it is not safe to branch out much in the cultivation of fruit. When we get water storage you will see that the Salt River valley will quickly take a front rank as a great fruit section.

GOV. WOLFLEY SUES

To Recover the Balance of His Claim Against the Territory.

Ex-Governor Lewis Wolfley yesterday filed a petition in district court praying for a mandamus writ against Governor Murphy, Dr. G. W. Vickers, territorial auditor and territorial secretary, Chas. H. Akers to compel the payment of a balance of a claim allowed the petitioner by the Eighteenth legislature, to refund him his personal expenses incurred in securing the passage of the original funding act. The expenses allowed by the legislature amounted to $5,000, with interest at 10 per cent from June 25, 1890, the date of the passage of the funding act. Successive territorial administrations declined to recognize the validity of the claim and several suits followed. In May of last year the petitioner assigned the claim to John A. Black of Tucson, who settled with the local commission by receiving seven $1,000 funding bonds. The petition states the assignment was made to Black as an agent, and not to compromise it. It also stated that no part of the amount received by Black has been turned over to the petitioner. It is stated that there is yet due the petitioner $2,565.75, the balance of the assignment was made to Black as an agent, and not to compromise it. Judge Dean directed an alternative writ to issue which is made returnable on February 11.

A VALUABLE BOOK.

The Tribune Almanac was first published in 1838 and a another name. It has appeared every year except once, since that date, continuously furnishing and enhancing its original claim to the confidence of the people. In recent years its size has been extended to meet the requirements of a growing population, with a greater complexity of interests, and now contains a much more varied assortment of topics. By rigid compression and expert arrangement, it yet remains compact and portable, while extraordinarily comprehensive. We observe that the 1899 number contains the constitution of the United States, the salient features of the constitution of New York; the charter of the Greater New York; a complete history of the war with Spain, including the treaty of the Joliet commission in Paris; and the monetary systems of the world; full returns of the elections in the several states and territories; electoral and popular vote for each president since the election of George Washington; the war revenue bill; a complete summary of acts passed to date by the present congress; history of the annexation of its territory, and many miscellaneous topics. Send 25 cents either to this paper or to the New York Tribune and you will receive a Tribune Almanac for 1899.

The next attraction at the opera house is the Mahara Minstrels. They are old time favorites here, having been here last season, and playing to two packed houses with the very best of satisfaction. This year the company, from all reports, is much better than last year's former season, numbering ten people more than it had last season and having improved the company in every way, so that now it reaches perfection in minstrelsy. The company has the same old favorites with it, including Billy Young, the prince of comedians, and Johnnie Glenn, the big mouthed wonder, and others, who, combined with the new stars, go to make up one of the best aggregations of performers that one could wish to see anywhere. The costumes are elegant, the scenery fine, the band can't be beat and the orchestra is better still. In truth, no one who can enjoy a good musical performance can afford to miss the Maharas when they appear here Wednesday evening.

An Imp of Mischief,

Is the manner in which one of our eminent eye specialists describes astigmatism, or unequal sight—so common among defective eyes of this day. This word astigmatism is derived from the Latin word of "astynus," which means "without a point." Most truly does it apply to this condition, for despite the strenuous endeavors of strong muscles and responsive nerves it is impossible to entirely overcome the defect without the aid of specially ground lenses. We exercise great care in the preparation and application of astigmatic lenses.
